

Adam Bastjan, Architect at Kahler Slater

BIOGRAPHY

As an architect and designer at Kahler Slater, Inc., Adam Bastjan is passionate about designing sports and recreational facility experiences. An avid hockey player, he cherished the recent opportunity to design the La Bahn Area, University of Wisconsin-Madison's new home for Women's Hockey. Adam teaches regularly as an adjunct professor in the architecture department at the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee and is a registered architect with the American Institute of Architects.
