

Christopher Ludwig, Architect at Kahler Slater

BIOGRAPHY

Christopher Ludwig is an architectural designer and fanatical about all things design-related, focusing his expertise on Higher Education at Kahler Slater, Inc. Chris had the opportunity to be a desert dweller while earning his undergraduate degree at Arizona State University, eventually returning to Milwaukee where he received his Master of Architecture degree and continues his involvement in academia as an Adjunct Professor for the School of Architecture and Urban Planning. When the weather permits, you may see him bombing about town on his white-rimmed single-speed. Look out!
